FLORIDA PRODUCT COUNCILS

Florida Product Councils (FPC) are small groups of members who meet two times per year to share best practices, case studies, and tour relevant projects.

There are currently four Councils:

Community & Housing Development

Hospitality & Recreational Development

Urban Development/Mixed Use

Multi-Family Development Council

Members must apply. The cost is $300 per year.

URBANPLAN

UrbanPlan is a classroom-based curriculum that gives students an opportunity to discover how market and non-market forces in their community effect what can be approved, financed, built and tenanted. The UrbanPlan committee enables the success of the program by working with students at Nease, Episcopal, Leon and Maclay high schools and FSU.
